"THE LINES ARE FALLEN UNTO ME IN PLEASANT PLACES; YEA, I HAVE A GOODLY HERITAGE."

--Psalms 16:6--

In this age that we call 'modern' we don't spend much time looking back into the past; the emphasis is all on the future.

But if we are wise we will pause now and then and reflect on those who preceeded us and gave us life--we will remember those whose honor and integrity and character provided the foundation for whatever success we have made of our lives. And then--maybe it will help us to appreciate more fully how much our children and grandchildren yet unborn are depending on the quality of our lives for their success--and so on, generation after generation.

Because I do appreciate Grandma and Grandpa Patrick, I have attempted, with the help of many others, to put together this listing of their descendants and my kin--of which I am very proud to be a part.

JAMES HENRY (JIM) PATRICK was born on April 13, 1861 in Washington County, Alabama. His parents were: Mother: MARTHA PATRICK, Father: JOHN COLLINS.

JAMES PATRICK married ELLA NORA JOHNSTON on December 29, 1887 They were the parents of twelve children, eleven of which lived to adulthood and rear families.

JAMES PATRICK died on June 11, 1929 and is buried in the United Methodist Church Cemetery at Calvert, Alabama. He had no known Brothers or Sisters.

MEMORIAL TRIBUTE

It has long been my regret that my only memory of Grandpa Jim Patrick is his death and burial. I was seven years old when word came to my folks, living in Satsuma at the time, that Grandpa had died.

We drove to Calvert in Daddy's Model "T" and I remember Grandpa's coffin resting between two dining room chairs in the living room of his home. Six of his friends carried him out and up the hill to the Methodist Church that he had attended regularly for many years.

After the eulogy Grandpa Jim was laid to rest in the cemetery behind the church.

Grandpa was born during the time that our Southland was being torn apart by a tragic war and he grew up during the awful days of the Reconstruction but I am told by many who knew him that he was a good man, respected by his neighbors; an honest man who paid his debts and kept his promises.

Grandpa bestowed on his large family the most valuable asset any father can give: a good name.

ELLA NORA (JOHNSTON) PATRICK was born on January 20, 1872 in Washington County, Alabama. Her parents were: Mother: ANN (YOUNG) JOHNSTON, Father: POWELL BATES JOHNSTON.

GRANDMA ELLA NORA PATRICK had one brother:

JOHN BATES JOHNSTON

She had five sisters:

IRENE JOHNSTON ODOM

CLARA JOHNSTON SHARPE

KATE JOHNSTON HARRIS

FANNIE JOHNSTON DAUGHTERY

EMMA JOHNSTON VAUGHN

And one half-brother:

GEORGE JOHNSTON

GRANDMA PATRICK died on November 29, 1941 and is buried beside Grandpa JimPatrick at the United Methodist Church Cemetery at Calvert, Alabama

MEMORIAL TRIBUTE

It was my privilege to know Grandma Nora Patrick for many years. She was--and still is-- a strong influence in my life, as well as the lives of all who were lucky enough to know her.

She often came to visit us after Grandpa's death. Sometimes her visits lasted a week, sometimes as long as a year; but however long they lasted it was never long enough for she was always a welcome guest.

Grandma was a true friend--to the children as well as the grown-ups. She was never too busy to stop and listen when anyone needed a sympathetic ear and no problem was so large--or small-- that she couldn't offer sound advice. She always maintained a quiet, relaxed dignity and I don't recall ever hearing her raise her voice in anger toward any living creature; human or animal.

Pascagoula Public Library
Local History & Genealogy Dept.
Patrick Family

Grandma preached thrift and hard work and she practiced what she preached. She was never idle. She planted gardens, raised chickens, sewed beautiful quilts, made jelly, canned surplus food from the garden, supervised hog-killings and sausage making...there is no way to list them all.

She was, without question, the kindest, most gentle person I have ever known. Even now, after over sixty years, I recall the cool, soft touch of her hand on my head as I lay burning with the fever of malaria and the calm assurance of her voice that I would soon feel better--and I always did.

She had enough courage and determination for a dozen people. On a summer evening around 1935 or 36, she slipped and fell while walking down the front steps of our home in Calvert and broke her hip. The doctor, when he finally arrived, told her that she would probably never walk again. But the doctor failed to take into account the bulldog determination of this strong-willed woman.

It took a few months for her bone to heal but one day Grandma decided that the time had come for her to begin the long and painful job of walking. It was slow progress but she didn't let up until she was sitting on the edge of the bed. She soon began to stand and then walked with a crutch which was later replaced with a cane. The last time that I saw her in 1939 she had discarded the cane and walked with a slight limp.

Grandma was just too much woman to give up and spend the rest of her life disabled.

F.Y.I.

Here is a copy of a letter I sent to the lawyer's Daughter
"Suddenly, Nothing Else Measures Up!"

I know that you are a very busy lady, but you are my only hope after INFORMATION on JAMES HENRY PATRICK's parents. I have 175 descendants for this man - He was my husband's Great Grandfather. I have not been able to identify his ancestors.

I have looked at all appropriate census records, visited cemeteries, mailed inquiries, bought & read books, & made lots of phone calls. I have also sent a letter to the MOWA Indian Tribal Office in McIntosh, Washington County, AL and have spoken to Mr. Peter Rivers and Jacqueline Matte with reference to a connection there. I have contacted Teresa Ridout in the Genealogy Department of the Neshoba Library; Jean Strickland with the JACKSON-GEORGE Regional Library System & Delila Shaw with the Choctaw Indian Agency in Philadelphia, MS. I have submitted inquiries to: "Southern Queries", "Family Puzzlers", "Family Ties", The Washington County (AL) Historical Society, and PRODIGY. I want you to know that I have made a valiant effort over the past 20 years, unfortunately to no avail. Please hear my plea ...

Family members say:

"After his death and before his widow's death (that would be sometime after 6-11-1929 and before 11-29-1941, his widow, Ella Nora Johnston Patrick, went to a lawyer in Philadelphia, Neshoba County, MS to file a claim that James Henry Patrick had Indian heritage. No one in the family has the information in writing."

I am willing to research the files myself if you do not have the time. I am very careful and consider all documentation precious. This is very important to me. I am a 7-year high school math teacher vet and have taken a pre-retirement package from IBM after 14 years of giving my life to IBM with no time to pursue the genealogical research that I love so much. My plans are to get a 2nd Masters degree in Counseling with the time and money that I now have. Before next quarter starts, I am hoping to plan some trips with my parents to locations (courthouses, etc.) to complete some undone family research. They, like me, are careful and trustworthy and have offered to help. It is my hope that I can resolve this ongoing mystery of JAMES HENRY PATRICK.

Mrs. Lovorn, if you consider this request unreasonable, please let me know. If the papers that are so valuable are a bother to you, have you considered donating them to an institution that could microfilm them and make them available to historians and genealogists? My parents and

I use the Birmingham Tutwiler Southern History and Literature Collection as often as possible. It is run well and provides a great service. I would also recommend the LDS church for having a great handle on managing records. You are sitting on a GOLD MINE !

My husband's maternal Great Grandfather was:

JAMES HENRY PATRICK

b. 4-13-1861 (on tombstone) AL ?

m. 12-30-1887 in Washington County, AL

d. 6-11-1929 @ Calvert home; buried Calvert United Meth. Church Cem., Washington County, AL

His maternal Great Grandmother was:

ELLA NORA JOHNSTON

b. 1-20-1872 (on tombstone) Washington County, AL

m. Same as above

d. 11-29-1941 ;buried Calvert United Methodist Church Cemetery, Washington County, AL

JAMES HENRY PATRICK'S death certificate lists HIS PARENTS as:

JOHN COLLINS & MARTHA PATRICK. I cannot locate either of these people.

Ella Nora Johnston PATRICK's family was very involved in early Washington County, AL history. Her parents were:

Powell Bates Johnston (b. 7-21-1827 ; d. 4-10-1901)

& Ann Cornelia Younge Stribling Johnston (b. 6-10-1841; d. 5-14-1923)

Ella Nora's Grandparents were:

Joseph ~~Callaway~~ Johnston (b. 1791, McIntosh, Washington County, AL; d. 7-3-1839)

& Clara Cato (no dates yet). [NOTE: 9/11/96: The Original had Callaway which is wrong !]

Mrs. Lovorn, one last attempt to appeal to your good nature: My parents and I have substantiated proof of 477 DIRECT ANCESTORS (representing 28 generations) for my son. The James Henry Patrick line is the shortest one of them all - therefore, it has become an obsession - especially knowing that the information may very well be in your basement. I am not a wealthy person, but if there is an amount of money that would make an effort worthwhile, what would that amount be ?

Sorry for being so desperate and obnoxious, but 'here's hoping ...
Please advise per enclosed postcard.

James Henry Patrick's Death Certificate has:

His Father = John Collins & His Mother=Martha Patrick
Death Certificate also has all 3 b. AL(?)

1880 - James (19) and his mother, Martha (55), are on the Clarke County, MS US Federal Census. Census birthplaces:

James =MS John Collins=AL Martha Patrick=MS
Martha=MS Martha's Father=TN Martha's Mother=AL

My Questions:

Where was James Henry Patrick in 1870? (Census Record?) He would have been 8 or 9 years old. Martha, if she really was 55 in 1880, would be about 45 years old on the 1870 Census.

Who was John Collins?

I do not believe Martha Patrick (b. ca 1825, MS) and John Collins ever married, however, is there a marriage record for a Martha Patrick and a John Collins in MS between 1840 and 1865? Is there an online MS marriage database that covers 1840-1865 that I can check?

> NO - J checked

James Henry Patrick looks very "Indian" in photos and his widow submitted info to Lawyer Weir to substantiate James Henry Patrick as having an Indian heritage after her husband's (JH Patrick's) death in 1929. I am enclosing a copy of a picture of JHP.

I do not know whether the Indian blood was from his Patrick mother or his Collins

Dear Renée,

I do not know why my e-mail would not send, but I am enclosing the message that I got from the Network for you in case there's a problem for everyone.

I appreciate your time and interest on the phone the other day. The purpose of this letter is to send you a copy of the letter that I wrote to Alice Weir Lovorn – you may share it with Hobbs Allen (or is his name Allen Hobbs?); also to summarize my queries on MS-related ancestors/relatives. You will find a copy of the Lovorn letter enclosed.

The 2 MS folks that I am trying to gather additional data on are:

1. James Henry Patrick (the purpose of my letter to Ms. Lovorn)
2. Darrell Payne (and his son, John W. Payne)

These two people are not directly related to each other, but ultimately some their descendants intermarried. As I mentioned these folks are my first husband's ancestors, therefore ancestors of my son, Tyler Patrick McGill, and his future children. I am very interested in tracing them as a gift to Ty and other relatives.

On the following pages I will summarize what I have collected thus far in hopes that you can direct me for the next steps.

Do you know of a Patrick or Collins Indian connection in the vicinities of Clarke/Wayne/Greene counties MS? I believe that the family lived on the state lines between these counties in MS and Washington County AL.

What happened to Martha Patrick after 1880 when she was with her son in Clarke shows up on each census in that location through his death. I cannot find his mother there.

Martha E. Simpson b. Oct. 1837 AL (prob. Washington County)
 d. After 1910 prob. Washington County, AL

I have collected the following information over the past 30 years:

I have pretty good evidence that Darrell's parents were:

Dennis & Sophia Walker Payne who m. 22 Nov. 1830 (Marengo)AL

I would love to have more information on Dennis Payne.

Sophia (Walker) Payne (b. ca 1810-1815, MS)

m. 29 Oct. 1838 (Marengo County) AL

John Slater (b. ca 1808, GA) and moved to TX

1850 Marengo County, AL

"Derrell" Payne is listed as a 16-year-old, along with a 14-year-old named

Dennis Payne. They are both listed as being b. AL

They are both in the home of 51-yr-old Gottleib Breitting (Brutting?), his wife, Madalane (41) and their 11 children (ages 1 to 23). I have no evidence of a blood connection to this family. I would love it if perhaps Madalane could be a sister to Sophia Walker Payne Slater, but that is a very WILD HOPE, based upon NO evidence.

1910 John W. & Fannie Perkins Payne live in Laurel, Jones, MS on Lindsey Avenue with their family.

1920 John W. Payne is widowed and still living in Laurel, Jones, MS on Lindsey Avenue. (Therefore Fannie d. after 1910 and before 1920)

1930 John W. Payne is living in Laurel, Jones, MS this time on Second Avenue with his married daughter and her husband (Alex A. & Evelyn Payne Jenkins).

My Questions:

1880 State Lunatic Asylum=1900 State Insane Hospital. The first facility was located in Liberty Grove Precinct; I do not know if the facility was the same in 1900, but they were probably the same. They are both given as Hinds County, MS. Are there any records ANYWHERE in MS for this hospital? Historical information? What happened when a patient died in the facility? Did the institution have its own graveyard? Any obvious questions that would let me know when Darrell died and where he was buried.

I do not know if younger family members even knew that their father/ grand father,/etc. was institutionalized, but assuming that Darrell's son, John W. Payne Did know about his dad, perhaps Darrell is buried where John W. and Fannie Perkins Payne are buried. That is my next question: Where in Laurel, Jones County MS were John W. & Fannie Perkins Payne buried? Darrell Payne's wife, Martha Simpson, could be buried there too in that I have not been able to find a grave for her in AL.

RESEARCH-CORRESPONDENCE=Patrick-Payne Queries 11-26-2004

René,

I hope that I have given a clear synopsis for you and/ or for any Payne or Patrick researchers using your facility that might be looking for the same families. My goal is to get as much information as possible on direct line ancestors for my son, so I can store a final dataset electronically.

Have a wonderful holiday and if you come across anything of help, I will be most appreciative.

Sincerely yours,

His death certificate lists his father as JOHN COLLINS b. AL and his mother as MARTHA PATRICK b. AL. Ella Nora Johnston Patrick went to a lawyer in Philadelphia, Neshoba Co., MS after her husband's death to claim that he was of Indian descent. Old photographs bear out this fact. James looked very much like an Indian. No one in the family can provide me with additional information.

Additional information to put in the file:

Dear Mr. Kelly:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of February 8, 1993.

I am afraid that I am not going to be of much help to you on this problem. I do not know who gave us this marriage. There was much information in a book on the Gatlin family which I used in the Archives in Jackson.

I believe that I have found Mary "Polly" Gatlin Patrick and 2 children in Perry County in 1880. The census is very difficult to read and she is listed as a boarder living with William Hinton. William D. Patrick is not with her nor is her daughter Charlotte unless her name was Charlotte Elvira or Elvira Charlotte. Then I can find them in Wayne County in 1900, but Charlotte is already gone from home.

The entry in Who Married Whom from the 1870 Census of Wayne County and they had no children yet. We have tried to keep all the papers from which we gleaned material for our books, but some of it was lost inadvertently.

I will continue to keep this in mind and hopefully
I will run across something for you. It is so difficult to work in Wayne and Perry Counties because of the destruction of records.

Sincerely yours,

Jean Strickland

Dear Ms Strickland:

I have several of your books on Wayne County, Mississippi. Let me say first that I am very thankful that these books are available to me and others. They have made it possible for me to learn more about my family than I every hoped for. All your hard work in putting them together is most appreciated.

I have not been able to find record of my grandmother's parents. Grandmother was Charlottie "Lottie" (Patrick) Kelly. b.6-20-1878 d.9-1-1934. Her death is recorded in your Cemetery Records Book B, page 179. b&d dates shown in this book are in error and should read as given here. However, this is no problem. Her Death Certificate shows her parents as: William D. Patrick and Polly Gatlin and gives Perry County Miss as place of her birth. I have searched the Perry County books you published and have not found these parents listed. I have not been able to locate them in the Perry Co census records, However, these Census records are very difficult to read. In your book "Who Married Whom Wayne County, Mississippi" page 148, fourth line from top you show "Patrick, William 1850 1870 Mary Gatlin (JN/CO) 1850 fk" Could these people be my grandmother's parents or are they other people with the same names? What does the "(JN/CO)" mean? Do you have record of the people providing the information "fk" on the above cited entry of Patrick, William and Mary Gatlin?

Can you help me in any way? If you can it sure will be appreciated and if not I will understand.

Thanking you for your time and attention I remain ,

Yours Truly,

Owen D. Kelly

MANUSCRIPTAL FILE

Situated on the Alabama border, Clarke county was established on December 23, 1833, and was named for Judge Joshua G. Clarke, the first Chancellor of the State of Mississippi. Well watered by the Chickasawhay River and its tributaries, Clarke county was a favorite spot for settlers coming overland from the Eastern Seaboard. The first officers of the county were David B. Thompson, sheriff; George Evans, treasurer; Henry Halles, probate judge; William Covington, clerk of the Circuit and probate courts; Norman Martin, Samuel K. Lewis, George Knight, Stephen Grice, Calvin M. Ludlow, members of the Board of Police. The county seat, Quitman, was named for General John A. Quitman, who was the second Chancellor of the State, and Governor of the State one hundred years ago.

A long journey it was from Scotland and Ireland to Clarke County, but distance did not daunt the Patricks of County Tyrone, Ireland. Robert Patrick had left Scotland to settle at Arrickatain, near Londonderry, in County Tyrone, Ireland, where his son, Anthony was born. There Robert Patrick leased a large tract of land from the Marquis of Abercorn and built a manor house which sheltered the Patrick family for many generations. Anthony Patrick married Elizabeth Leighton, a native of England, and their son, James Patrick, was born on February 1, 1808 at the manor house in County Tyrone. When James Patrick was twenty-six years of age, he emigrated from Ireland to the United States and settled in Morristown, N. C., where he was a tutor in the home of a Dr. Morrison, where he taught Mary Morrison, who became the wife of "Stone-wall" Jackson. When North Carolina, James Patrick came to Marengo county, Ala., and then settled in Mobile, where he founded a very successful business as a cotton factor. When James Patrick moved to Enterprise, in Clarke county, he built a mansion which was a smaller replica of the old manor house in Ireland. It was erected in 1859 and was furnished lavishly with furniture, china and silver imported from the Eastern Seaboard and from Europe. Blue and gold satin damask, draperies, mahogany and rosewood furniture, alabaster clocks and prism candelabra and rosewood furniture, alabaster clocks and prism candelabra made the Patrick home one of the loveliest in east Mississippi.

James Patrick married, on June 11, 1851, Louisa Amphiana Patton, the only child of William Rosborough and Joannah Caroline (Dismukes) Patton of South Carolina. James Patrick died in March, 1886 and Joannah, his wife, died on February 23, 1894. They had a son, Robert L. Patrick.

Robert L. Patrick first entered the cotton business with his father, but eventually became a lawyer, practicing first in New Orleans and in Laurel. He then founded a large wholesale grocery business in Laurel. On August 6, 1902, Robert L. Patrick married Loula Bridges, daughter of Nicholas Bethea Bridges, who was born in Marlborough District, South Carolina, and Laura Newtonia (Berryhill) Bridges. Laura Newtonia (Berryhill) Bridges was a niece of Samuel Newton Berryhill, "Mississippi's Backwoods Poet," and a granddaughter of John Portman, of Fishing Creek S. C. who was a soldier in the Revolutionary War and who is buried in Mississippi. The Portman family of this country is descended from the English nobleman, Lord Portman, Port-man Square in London being named for this family.

Robert L. AND Loula (Bridges) Patrick became the parents of two children: Robert L. Jr., and Alice Patrick.

In addition to building the manor house near Enterprise, in which the Patrick family made their home, James Patrick constructed the first Presbyterian church near Enterprise, at his own expense, and donated it to the Presbyterians of Enterprise. It was destroyed by fire, but the present building is constructed on the lot donated by Mr. Patrick.
